Partner Peter Rogers spoke with Law360 about joining Bracewell and what attracted him to the firm.

“What attracted me to Bracewell is the ability for me to focus my practice on both general M&A tax-related issues, as well as matters related to energy transition.” Rogers said.

“Bracewell’s approach is a very much holistic approach, and the tax department focuses on all matters. Being at Bracewell really gives me the opportunity to be that generalist who can focus not only on M&A matters, but also energy transition, and to work with colleagues who also focus on all areas.”
