

The Energy 202: Biden's Climate Agenda has a Better Chance with Democratic Senate Control

Media Mentions

January 11, 2021 | The Washington Post | 1 minute read | Washington, DC

Bracewell's Liam Donovan told "The Energy 202" that Democrats are more likely to embed green measures into any stimulus or infrastructure packages than passing a stand-alone climate bill.

"Republicans have 20 people in cycle in 2022, some of them in competitive states," he said. "So I think you can dial up the political pressure by putting reasonable sounding things that you want to do, infrastructure included," on the floor.

Click here to read more from The Washington Post \(subscription required\).

Related People

Liam P. Donovan
Senior Political Strategist
WASHINGTON, DC
+1.202.828.5847
liam.donovan@bracewell.com

Related Industries

Energy

Related Practices

Government Relations

Strategic Communications