In covering the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee (ENR), Axios Pro noted that ENR might be a hub for bipartisanship on geothermal and permitting issues in the session.

Scott Segal, co-chair of Bracewell's Policy Resolution Group, told the outlet that incoming ENR Chair Mike Lee is "known to have a pretty smart staff that knows how to ask the right questions." Segal also noted that he believes "that the bipartisanship on the committee will continue."
