

Joshua S. Cunningham

Associate

joshua.cunningham@bracewell.com

WASHINGTON, DC
+1.202.828.5808

Joshua Cunningham advises clients on regulatory, litigation, enforcement, and policy matters across the energy and infrastructure industries, with a focus on matters before the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) and the Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration (PHMSA). He assists oil and natural gas pipeline, storage, and LNG clients in navigating a variety of strategic issues arising out of large-scale construction projects, regulatory compliance, enforcement defense, and federal rulemaking matters. These matters extend to energy transition issues such as carbon dioxide.

During law school, Joshua concentrated on energy law and its intersection with international law and policy, where he served on The George Washington Journal of Energy and Environmental Law. Additionally, he was an active member of Lambda Law and worked as a law clerk for multiple nonprofit organizations.

Industries

Energy

Practices

Energy Regulatory

Pipeline and LNG Safety and Regulation

Litigation

Oil & Gas

Midstream Transactions

Infrastructure Development

Credentials

Education

- The George Washington University Law School, J.D., 2023
- University of Colorado Boulder, B.A., 2019

Bar Admissions

- District of Columbia

BRACEWELL

The George Washington University Law School

- The George Washington Journal of Energy and Environmental Law, Associate

DNA – People’s Legal Services

- Law Clerk

Resources

Offshore Wind Litigation: First Circuit Affirms Dismissal of Challenges Against Vineyard Wind

Update

CFTC, DOJ and SEC Announce Landmark Prosecutions Alleging Fraud in Connection With Voluntary Carbon Credits

Update

Vineyard Wind 1 Prevails Again in the First Circuit

Update