

Young June Jhe

Associate

june.jhe@bracewell.com

NEW YORK

+1.212.508.6115

Young June Jhe focuses his practice on financial lending and banking transactions. He represents lenders and borrowers in syndicated leveraged financings, direct lending facilities, net asset value facilities and DIP financings.

Before joining Bracewell, June was an associate with an international law firm and served as a judicial clerk for Seventh District Judge David T. Emerson of the Superior Court of Georgia.

Industries

Energy

Finance

Technology

Practices

Corporate & Securities

Financial Restructuring

Finance

Experience

Crédit Agricole Corporate and Investment Bank

- refinancing of approximately $2.6 billion of letter of credit and term loan facilities in favor of McDermott International, Ltd, including $320 million dropdown financing of CB&I STS Delaware LLC. The refinancing was implemented through a cross-border restructuring process which compromised approximately $1 billion of unsecured litigation claims. This represents only the second time a dual-track UK RP/Dutch WHOA has been used as a restructuring strategy. Notable accolades for this work include winner of the IFLR Europe Awards 2025 Restructuring Deal of the Year and the American Bankruptcy Institute's International Matter of the Year Award.

Credentials

Education

- Emory University School of Law, J.D., 2016

BRACEWELL

- Carnegie Mellon University, Mellon College of Science, B.S., 2013

Bar Admissions

- New York

Languages

- Korean — fluent

Recognition

- Superior Court of Georgia for the Seventh District, Judicial Clerk