Midweek Minisode 1: MIT's Jeremy Gregory on Hurricanes & Hazard-Resistant Buildings

May 15, 2018

By: Joshua C. Zive and Frank V. Maisano

It's our first Midweek Special Minisode! In this week's minisode, Frank Maisano takes the lead to talk with Jeremy Gregory, Executive Director of MIT's Concrete Sustainability Hub and Research Scientist from MIT's Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering. At the threshold of hurricane season, MIT's CSHub is conducting cutting-edge research on ways to innovate more durable, sustainable construction that helps communities withstand natural disasters.
